Dear Friends

Season of Creation

In the church year the Season of Creation (September 1st - October 4th) is an opportunity for us to reflect on our responsibility to care for the planet. As the season draws to an end for this year, have you considered:

The world is not ours:

'The earth is the Lord's and everything in it' (Psalm 24:1). The world is not ours, but God's! This means we have a responsibility of caring for God's world: 'The Lord God took the man and put him in the Garden of Eden to work it and take care of it.' (Genesis 2:15). Clearly, we have not done the best job! The effects of global warming have been all too obvious this summer. And 2025 ranked as the third warmest year on record globally, 1.3°C to 1.44°C above pre-industrial levels. This follows the historic peak in 2024, driven by ongoing fossil fuel emissions and high ocean surface temperatures.

Our hope is found in Jesus:

Any hope for the future lies in Jesus Himself. He is the one who sustains creation and will bring everything to completion: 'all things have been created through Him and for Him. He is before all things, and in Him all things hold together.' (Colossians 1:16,17). God's plan is 'to bring unity to all things in heaven and on earth under Christ.' (Ephesians 1:10). We can look forward to the climax of history when God through Christ will restore our broken world and make everything new.

In the present, we are empowered by Christ to take our proper place as stewards of the earth. Simple everyday actions can help to sustain our planet, including recycling of waste, energy saving, choosing reusable options, careful diet and a commitment to simple living can help the planet.

However difficult the climate crisis gets, as Christians, we can engage it with faith and not fatalism!

Gower Walking Festival

In August Peter Lewis suggested that I might like to join Dan Edy in leading some of the walks in this festival. Dan did all the planning, walking the routes several times in advance, to make provision for the weather and the terrain. Peter Lewis and I were the back and mid-way markers.

Our first walk took us from Sts. Rhidian and Illtyd's Church in Llanrhidian, up to the top of Cefn Bryn, but following paths which I hadn't used before. The views of well-known features of Gower were so different when approached from an unfamiliar direction. We followed The Gower Way in glorious sunshine to Penmaen, before cutting through Three Cliffs campsite to Parkmill and then walking through Ilston Valley, pausing for lunch at the chapel ruins, to our second stop at our second St. Illtyd's Church. The stream is usually full of water gushing past, but we could have walked along the river bed, as it was bone dry, something else I had never seen before.

One more St. Illtyd's Church to find, so we retraced our steps back to Penmaen uphill for much of the time so quite taxing in the heat, before scrambling down the cliffs to Three Cliffs Bay. We had consulted the tide tables, but eventually discovered that we couldn't pass Great Tor. Taking the life guards advice that it could be a couple more hours before our route would be passable, we turned and climbed what felt like the highest sand dune in Gower until we eventually reached the coast path at the top of the cliffs once more. Fortunately we were able to get back to the beach via Crawley Woods and walked the length of Oxwich Bay to our final destination – St. Illtyd's Church in Oxwich.

The walkers who joined us today, were all seasoned hikers, evidenced by the list of walks which they had completed recently in all parts of the Britain and overseas. One lady was flying to Portugal to walk the Camino to Santiago de Compostela the following week. It was a long walk, but we met such fascinating people and enjoyed their company. Marian Williams

The Church in Afghanistan certainly needs prayer, as it faces systemic and brutal oppression.

Afghan Christians at risk of 'eradication'

Christianity in Afghanistan "now hangs by a gossamer thread", warns a recent report on persecution in that country.

The report, Crimes Against Humanity and Potential Genocide: the threat posed by the Taliban regime of total eradication of the Christian community in Afghanistan, was recently published by the Lindisfarne Centre for the Study of Christian Persecution. It is a Christian research centre that focuses on Christian minorities in the Islamic world.

The report warns that the Taliban's legal framework provides "specific evidence of the intent to commit genocide".

For Christians in Afghanistan simply have no right to exist as a religious community, according to the Afghan government. Anyone found to be a Christian is seen as merely as an apostate Muslim. The law calls for all such men to be executed, and for women to be imprisoned, and given ten lashes every three days for the rest of her life.

Thus, these laws "provide specific evidence of intent to eradicate the Afghan Christian community", the report states.

In the meantime, the Afghan government is busy hunting Christians down. The report found that the strategy "appears to be heavily focused on obtaining intelligence relating to networks of Afghan Christians. Clearly, that data is being collected for a purpose."

And ordinary Afghan citizens are being encouraged to help the Taliban. A law has been passed "which specifically legitimises the killing of Afghan Christians and absolves those who carry out such acts from punishment."

The report also lists credible accounts of the arrest, imprisonment, interrogation and torture of Afghan Christians.

The report's authors are Dr Martin Parsons, the CEO of the Lindisfarne Centre, who holds a PhD in Christian and Islamic theology in the Afghanistan-Pakistan region; and Adrien Garnier, a research associate of the Lindisfarne Centre, who visited Afghanistan in 2025.

The report is critical of Western governments for failing to address the plight of Christians during the 20-year period of western military and political involvement (2001-21), including the failure to change the sentence of execution for apostasy in Afghan law.

Swansea Minster to host Gaia - Luke Jerram's giant Earth installation

Swansea Minster will host Gaia, a touring artwork by UK artist Luke Jerram, from 12th to 31st October.

Gaia is a six-metre sphere created from detailed NASA imagery of the Earth's surface. The huge installation will be suspended inside the Minster, offering visitors the experience of seeing the planet floating in three dimensions.

Jerram has aimed to evoke the Overview Effect - a phenomenon first described by author Frank White in 1987 - in which astronauts experience a profound sense of the Earth's fragility, the interconnection of all life, and a renewed sense of responsibility for the environment.

The Minster will also host a programme of cultural and religious events around the installation during its three-week run. More details at: SwanseaMinster.org.uk.

Harvest Celebrations

The Harvest celebrations at St Hilary's were very well attended. The special preacher at the Parish Communion was the Archdeacon of Gower and we are indebted to him for his splendid address. The church was beautifully decorated by the group of ladies who are now quite expert in the art of floral arrangement and we should like to thank them for all the splendid work they do.

On the Monday evening, after Choral Evensong in church, we held our Harvest Supper in the hall. We thoroughly enjoyed the refreshments supplied and prepared by the ladies. This was followed by the usual quiz and entertainment arranged by Messrs. Randall Nutt and Eric Thomas, during which they even persuaded the clergy to sing a duet, accompanied by Mrs Griffin on the guitar. Although we were fewer in number than usual, all enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

St Martin's Harvest Supper

Again this year, this was a great success and was held as usual in the marquee on the farm. We are grateful to Mr John Bristow who made the arrangements, together with the ladies who provided the refreshments, to Mr & Mrs Reynolds who acted as our hosts and to Mr Riseborough for providing the musical entertainment.

United Service of Praise

The churches of Killay and Dunvant have been invited to a united Service of Praise in St Hilary's on Sunday 31st October at 6pm to join in our Jubilee celebrations. The service will include well known hymns and local ministers will be taking part in the service.

Credit where credit is due

Having bought, read and thoroughly enjoyed the booklet The Stained Glass Windows of St. Hilary's Church, Killay. 100 Years of Faith and Service in the Community. Among the credits I saw compiled by Anne Llewelyn and Marian Williams, I approached Anne and told her how beautifully presented the booklet is; straight away she held her hand up and graciously said: 'No it is not down to me there were others involved and the beautiful presentation is down to Roger.' I didn't see his name in the credits, he must have omitted it. So, credit where credit is due well done Roger Rees. Also, Thank You for the brilliant presentation of monthly Parish Magazine. St James the Least of All

The Rev Dr Gary Bowness continues his tongue-in-cheek letters from 'Uncle Eustace'

The Rectory, St James the Least of All

On how long a sermon should last

My dear Nephew Darren

I am afraid we will never agree about the appropriate length of sermons. Your 50-minute exposition on the theology of St Paul concerning women wearing hats in church is, I am sure, of real interest to you. But as your sermon slowly unfolds, I suspect it will prompt quite a different concern among your congregation. Have they set the oven timer to come on too early?

Whenever I even hint that a matter of theological importance may be about to appear in one of my sermons, an expression of benign incomprehension comes over my congregation. You know the look – you see it on golden Labradors whenever they try and work out what their owners are telling them.

There are certain sure signs that should warn you when you have preached for long enough. One is when members of the congregation reach for their prayer books to try to work out for the umpteenth time how the date for Easter is calculated. The organist turning on the blower when you say "and finally" is another.

Most members of the congregation will count the number of dead flies on the windowsills during your sermon. But when you can see members of the congregation counting the numbers in the congregation counting the numbers of dead flies, that is absolute proof that it is time to stop.

There has only been one occasion when I preached for longer than my standard eight minutes. Our former organist was in the habit of taking his dog for a walk during the sermon. I knew I had to carry on preaching until I heard the latch on the vestry door for the second time. That meant he was back, and ready to play the last hymn. Unfortunately, one Sunday, his dog ran away.

While he searched for it over every field in the parish, I spent the intervening two hours reading the greater part of Leviticus, discussing the food laws set forth in Deuteronomy, and arguing for a Deutero-Isaiah. I was headed for the Babylonian exile when we all heard the vestry door re-open.

After the Service, the congregation left looking as though they had just been rescued from a major shipwreck. And at the next church council meeting, we unanimously voted to buy our organist a stronger lead.

Your loving uncle, Eustace

Gower Ministry Area Wave of Prayer – Wednesday September 9th

After discussion at the recent meetings of the Ministry Area Ministry Team which I attended, Rev'd Peter Lewis agreed that he would create a common liturgy to be used in each church for continuity. Services were to be led by the clergy or by Licensed Lay Worship Leaders. A world map was displayed at the front of the church and participants would be invited to write any concerns or prayers for the countries and people of the world on post-it notes, which could be stuck on the map.

At St. Hilary's, we also decided to display a map of Gower with the position of each church marked on it to focus our attention on the Ministry Area. Rachmaninov's Adagio was used to set the scene with the music playing softly in the background. We thought of the people gathered at St. Cenydd's Church in Llangennith as we followed them in the wave and of those gathered at St. Illtyd's Church in Oxwich who would follow us. As we listened to the liturgy, so carefully crafted by Peter, to reflect the geographical and human features of our Ministry Area, the maps and the words enabled us to visualise its beauty. We were delighted that Rach and Dan from the Wonder of Wellbeing team joined us at St. Hilary's and that Rach read Voice 2 with Marian who read Voice 1.

Anyone who wished to do so, was invited to add a post-it and then move to light a votive candle. This was a time of prayerful silence and contemplation, which was appreciated by all who were present. This was followed by the new Pilgrim's Prayer for the Gower Ministry Area which will be used in our churches and added to our bulletins every week. I felt it was appropriate to end our service by reading the poem, 'If the Earth were only a few feet in diameter,' and the prayer of St. Teresa of Ávila, before we joined together in the Lord's Prayer.

Thank you to all who participated in this service.

Wonder Of Wellbeing Wild Church Events

Wild Church is really Outdoor Church, when we find ourselves in various parts of Gower exploring the wonders of Creation. At the end of August, we spent the morning and early afternoon at Pwll Du Bay, led by Dan Edy and Peter Lewis. We met at Pyle Corner in Bishopston and walked along the lanes before a more strenuous walk than usual, down to the beach itself, where we shared our picnic lunches. Although it was a hot, sunny day there were few people on the beach, due to its accessibility via the cliff path or a long walk through Bishopston Valley. It is definitely well worth the walk if you haven't been there and the sea views are spectacular.

September's walk was from Parc le Breos to Green Cwm and Parc Wood. Eleven of us gathered in the sunshine to use our senses to explore the beauty of our environment. Through forest bathing techniques, sensory awareness, gentle walking, and shared reflection, we explored the spiritual practice of Sabbath Rest in the heart of the ancient woodland. We were invited to listen, look, touch and smell, though not taste on this occasion. The moss was soft and luxuriant, the leaves seemed to flutter towards us, few insects seemed apparent, although we found what Google said was a Juvenile Toad, very small, but with long legs. It was completely at home on Nia's hand. What struck most of us was the sense of calm, peace and safety and we were invited to find an object which resonated with us in relation to a worry, responsibility, pressure or unanswered question.

Next month on Saturday October 17th at 10:30am it will be Wild Church Harvest at Crwys Community Woodland in Three Crosses.

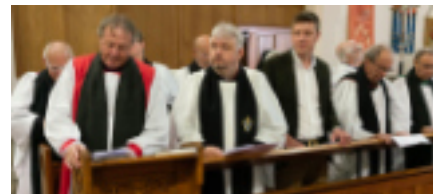

Why not come along and join us?
